

Service summary

Uniformed Services - RAFA

The RAF Association (RAFA) supports the whole Royal Air Force family, providing comradeship, welfare and opportunities to current and former members of the Royal Air Force and their dependants.

If you require help or just a chat, our Welfare Officers are always available to visit you to assist and support you through any difficulties in times of need.

We are here to provide a wide range of welfare support and facilities for serving and retired members of the RAF and their dependants.

Receiving no government contributions, our work is completely funded by the generosity of our members and through vital donations from our supporters to the Wings Appeal.
