Real Life Options

At Real Life Options we believe that having a learning disability or autism should not hold back anyone from living a full and rewarding life. Through the right level of support at the right time, we enable young people and adults to be fully involved in their local communities, learn new skills and have more control of their lives.

Our staff champion the people we support to live a life full of choice and purpose, encouraging them to make choices in their homes and within their communities in a way that helps them feel safe, remain healthy and contributes towards their general wellbeing.

Real Life Options has a wealth of experience in providing personalised support to meet different people's needs.

We Support:

- People with learning disabilities and autism
- People with complex needs
- People with behaviours of concern
- People with physical disabilities
- People with sensory disabilities
- People with dementia
- Older people requiring support
- People requiring palliative care
- People with a history or risk of offending
